RAMPANT ROOTERS RALLY ROUND 1.30 P.M. AT THE UNION

GLADIATORS WAITING FOR THE WHISTLE

Both Squads Are "In the "Pink."

OLD PROBS PLACATED.

Shortage Of Tickets Promises To Be Acute.

With the weather man reporting "fine and cool" for to-day, the way is clear for the big McGill-Varsity Intercollegiate Rugby classic which will take place at the Percival Molson Memorial Stadium this afternoon, and which gives every indication of being the greatest battle ever staged between the two rival teams. Hundreds of enthusiasts arrived in the city yesterday to be on hand when the two fourteens face each other this afternoon, and during the morning large crowds are expected from the outlying points all bound up the hill to the scene of the struggle. Never before has the enthusiasm reached the pitch that prevails at this last hour before the match. Tickets for the game have been practically all sold, only three hundred being left, and it is anticipated that these will all go early this morning. Late yesterday afternoon the rush for Rooters' tickets came like a charge, and when the air had cleared and an account made, it was found that 850 had gone in one lone rush. From all indications it appears that for the first time in its short history, the big concrete stand at the Stadium will be filled to overflowing.

Followers of the game are looking for a close battle, as both teams are evenly matched and both are confident of carrying off the bacon. The McGill squad will present a much more formidable aggregation than that which met defeat two weeks ago against the Blue and White at Toronto, and with the added spirit of determination to win that has characterized the players during the past half dozen practices and the manner in which they have perfected their work, supporters of the Red and White can see nothing for it but a win to-day and a play-off for the Intercollegiate honors on the gridiron. CHEMISTS MEET SIR S. BRUNTON

Recent Discoveries With Regard to Hydrogen Peroxide Revealed.

The Chemical Society held its fortnightly meeting yesterday afternoon in the Chemistry and Mining Building. Dr. Eve presented Sir Stopford Brunton to membership in the Society.

Mr. W. H. Hatcher addressed the meeting on some recently discovered properties of hydrogen peroxide. Whereas only three properties had been previously known, Dr. Maass and his associates have worked out nearly all the important properties, not only for the pure anhydrous 100 per cent. material, but also for various concentrations in aqueous solution.

The method of preparation has been brought up to a high degree of efficiency.

Various misconceptions regarding the nature of the material were dealt with, and further work on the same subject was promised for the future.

ECONOMISTS HELD FIRST DISCUSSION

Proportional Representation
Was the Subject.

GOOD ATTEMPTANCE.

Six More Meetings Are Planned For This Season.

If enthusiasm and attendance can be taken as a criterion for the success of the Economists Club during the coming session, everything points to a very successful year. Some score or more budding economists gathered together in the smoking room of the Arts Building last night, and, in spite of the rather cramped quarters, were very successful in thrashing out the question of Proportional Representation. The chief speakers of the evening were Messrs Common and Raphael, both of Arts '21, who gave some very interesting information. At 8.30 sharp, after refreshments had been served, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. L. Kern, who invited Dr. Leacock to deliver a few introductory remarks. In a few well chosen words, Dr. Leacock welcomed the new members to the club, and stated that if the present session of the club was as interesting as meetings in the past, that a most enjoyable year could be looked forward to.

The next business on the programme was the election of Mr. Pierce to the office of secretary. It is planned to hold meetings every three weeks, and among the subjects to be chosen by the executive for future discussions are the following: Mr. Keynes's Thesis; Exchange; Starvation in Europe and its Remedies; Labor Policy in England, and others.

The executive is ready to receive any suggestions for future discussion, and at the next meeting looks forward to a large attendance.

Mr. M. I. Raphael, the first speaker, explained in detail the system of Proportional Representation by means of the single transferable vote. The operation of the system was illustrated on a specimen ballot, and the speaker proved to the satisfaction of the most skeptical that under Proportional Representation the result of an election would be an accurate reflection of the varied political leanings of the voters of the constituency in question. Thus, election by a minority, as sometimes happens now in three-cornered contests, would not occur. Mr. Raphael (Continued on Page 3.)

NO SCABS IN THE RANKS OF CLAN TEEDLES

All Belong To Ancient Order

RAISE UNION ROOF.

Raising and Roof Are Both
Union Says Peerless Leader.

At least a real Rooters' meeting was held! It would have done any "old timer's" health good to have seen the crowd that gathered for the final practice. Not only was there a record attendance, but also a most enthusiastic one. Nearly a thousand men gathered together to do their duty in order that they might help their team trounce Varsity.

"Teedles" Thompson, assisted by Joe Wain, held the "Thundering Thousands" with a discipline that would have made any officer in the army or navy look on with envy.

It was remarkable to see how the throng of excited students, wearing red and white prisoner caps, quietened down and executed the orders of their hard-working leaders to perfection.

The band, too, was there, and there with bells on. "Chub" LeBaron, and his gang worked away like troopers, and made it clear to the onlooker that they were well prepared for the inevitable game.

There was a great deal of shoving and pushing as the thundering multitude shelled out the two bits and brought their caps. Quite an unfortunate affair for those students who had corns on their toes.

After the yells and songs were reviewed and arrangements made to meet in the Union at 1.30, a rush for the tickets, which were sold at a rebate to the Rooters, was made. Judging by the long line, it was quite evident that the treasury was far from penniless. In fact, it appeared as if the line would go on for ever.

Here, too, the gong acted in a very good manner, and with the help of "Teedles" and Joe Wain, 882 tickets were sold, and more would have been sold had not some of the Rooters grown impatient. (Continued on Page 2.)

"DER TAG"

Unfortunate professors whose duty it is to address their classes this morning may be assured of one thing—that previous records for inattention and restlessness will be easily surpassed. The whole University is suffering from an acute attack of the fidgets and the malady will probably only reach its crisis around two-thirty this afternoon. Seldom if ever before has a football game at McGill been looked forward to with more anticipation and never has the fighting spirit been more manifest. Last night's bumper meeting of the Rooters' Club at the Union gave some indication of the vim and energy with which the whole student body is entering into the spirit of the thing and it is certain that the team will go on to the field with all of McGill behind them.

Whatever jaundiced misanthropes or incurable faddists may say to the contrary notwithstanding, the indubitable fact remains that the surge and rush of a well-contested football game is an irresistible lure to the normal red-blooded man. When we add to that the factor of "esprit de corps" or college spirit or whatever one chooses to call it, we begin to understand why to-day's game has taken such a hold upon the popular imagination.

To-day the eyes of sport-loving Canada are turned towards the McGill Stadium. For us who are privileged to witness the Homeric struggle there remains, as McGill students, the duty of doing our utmost to second the efforts of our team by every means in our power. If we lose we can do so with a good grace—if we win we cannot afford to violate the McGill tradition of sportsmanship. But win or lose we are at least going to witness one of the greatest football games of all time.

HISTORICAL CLUB TO HOLD MEETING

Activities For Year Open
Next Wednesday—Good Programme.

The first meeting of the Historical Club will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 10th, when Dr. O. W. Howard will give an opening address on "History and Its Value in Education."

This club, which has always been highly popular with those interested in its range of activities, is one of the long-standing student organizations of the College, and one of the most exclusive. The membership is limited, and thus there are only a certain number of vacancies every year.

The object of the meetings is the discussion of historical questions and debated problems of the day. Papers are read on these subjects and are followed by open discussions in which all the members are permitted and expected to take part. This furnishes an opportunity to be well informed on current topics and to acquire a knowledge of historical movements which form a part not only of the study of history but of a broad general knowledge. It is also the custom to have several speakers of note during the year to talk on subjects of interest to the club.

This year a particularly good programme is being prepared, which will cover a wide range of topics. All the meetings are informal, smoking is in order, and refreshments are provided. Membership is open to students above the first year, on the recommendation of one of the members.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

Referring to my letter of yesterday. As anyone could observe from its context, it was rather late. In fact, I meant it for last Tuesday's edition. But it must have been mislaid. After Miss MacKenzie's letter the other day, I would not have taken it upon myself to answer "Vivant Femine." Since that time my views have been slightly altered in regard to the Rooters' Club, and I will take my seat at to-day's game with the rest of the loyal contingent from R. V. C.

Yours sincerely,
"TACEANT MULIERES."

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

Your correspondent "Pithecantropus" has seen fit to question my use of the word "ape."

I have taken the trouble to consult the Nelson's "horse half" Encyclopedia in the Science Library as he suggests. Under the heading "Ape" the following appears:—"A term sometimes used to designate anthropoid apes and sometimes quite

THE SERVICE STATION "Free Air"

America, says Oliver Boliver, has been dried and found wanting. The recent down east schooner race goes far to prove that. In almost any moist element they are still very fair performers.

Little as we esteem the silk shirt as an article of personal adornment it is our fervent hope that there may be at least a baker's dozen new ones visible on the campus about Tuesday next.

Times change and we with them. It is only a short year since Mr. Boote, the talented left-footed drop-kicker of Wesleyan College was occupying much space in the American papers. How many bright thoughts were evolved re a Boote on the other foot we know not but they must have been enough. And now it is all as flat as yesterday morning's bromseltzer.

With Our Correspondents.

Sir,—

I wish to attend to-day's game but I have to be careful, on account of my rheumatiz! Please let me know if this afternoon will be wet or fine. Yours,

D. CREPITUS.

Dear Crep—if we win, probably both.

You Surprise Us.

Sir,—

You will recall the proud mother who, on being asked what position her son played on the football team, replied, "Oh, he is one of the draw-backs." We have none of those on our squad, have we? PHILOMEL.

One of our philosophical contribs has detected the fatal flaw in football as at present conducted. The proof follows:

A Hymn of Hate.

The "Thousand" at the Stadium create a thund'rous din. The ladies from the R.V.C. can swing a wicked chin. The players chatter snappily from when they enter in. But one there is who holds a kindly word to be a sin.—

The referee.

The "Thousand" smile in happiness what times the score is right. The R.V.C. enjoy full well to watch the smilers smite. The athletes find a certain cheer in leaping up the fight. But there's a Mona Lisa, one who does not smile, not quite.—

The referee.

The ordinary heart in stress can jump towards the hat. The heart of any R.V.C. at times goes pit-a-pat. The hearts of those in moreskins oft describe a rat-a-tat. But one there is whose heart goes on quite placidly, like that.—

The referee.

Unchanged, unmoved he stands out there, a target for all eyes. And docks our hopefuls fifteen yards, regardless of our sighs. Or orders out some sportsman, just for gouging someone's eyes. For calculating cruelty, he surely takes the prize.—

The referee.

Some day, if you should go above to stum a golden lure. The R.V.C. we hope you'll find among those in the choir. The athletes well deserve a place, they've had enough of fire. But down upon the grid we trust you'll find, if you enquire.—

The referee.

Old Saws, Says Hands, Are Best.

Sir,—

One notes by the Edmonton Journal that Dr. D. L. Fee has opened offices in that city. If L stands for low and D for whatever you please, he should be a popular physician. What I really wished to tell you, however, was that there is a carpenter named Hands on Sherbrooke Street West. His first name, so far as I know, is not Israel. But his saws? Ah, there you have me. After you, I beg.

On a soda fountain sign in a Wabash Avenue, Chicago, drug store: "War tax in all drinks." It is in, opines J. K., it is all there is in.

See you at the game.

McQUOCHLE.

Indefinitely for the monkeys, baboons and their allies of the order of Primates.

Further, I consulted the other book in the Science Library and found a similar passage.

In conclusion, I wish to congratulate Mr. "Pithecantropus" on his choice of a pseudonym which, I feel certain, is indicative of his progression on the path toward mental enlightenment.

A.C.L. DEFEAT MEDICINE BY 14--12 SCORE

Exciting Game Was Won In Last Minutes of Play.

GOOD TEAM WORK.

Amaron and Rutherford Were Individual Stars.

In one of the most exciting games of football seen around McGill for a long time past took place yesterday afternoon on the Old Campus, when the combined teams of Arts, Commerce and Law came back with a mighty push, and defeated Medicine in the last two minutes of play by 14 to 12. The game was characterized by most extraordinary reversals of form. At different times it looked as if each of the contestants was sure of the match. During the first half the Arts team seemed to waver almost at will through the ranks of their opponents. But a wonderful change was shown in the second half, Medicine quickly made two touches and two rouges, giving her a lead of four points over Arts. Then Arts awakened from their lethargy. In a series of bucks they ploughed their way to Medicine's goal-line, and "old reliable" Amaron went over for the touch, which gave them the game. Rutherford converted with a neat shot. His splendid kicking was one of the features of the game, by its means the Arts getting two field goals.

The first kick-off went out of touch. Arts secured the return of the second, and bucked through Medicine's line for yards. Amaron kicked for a rouge. When they next got hold of the ball Arts again made substantial gains, which ended with Rutherford's first field goal. This made score 4—0. Soon afterwards, on a punt from Amaron, Hall grabbed the ball, which had been fumbled by Medicine. Amaron again kicked for a rouge. End of first quarter, 5—0.

The second quarter was much the same, except that Arts only tallied three points on another field goal. The exciting part of the period consisted in Arts holding their opponents when a touch seemed certain. The half ended with the score 8—0.

On resumption of play, the order of things was speedily reversed. Medicine seemed aggressive, and very soon Gressick, on a beautiful long pass, went over for a touch. It was unconverted. Chisholm quickly made the score 8—6 with a rouge. Arts fumbled badly, and Medicine added another five points, Gressick again doing the trick. Amaron had been injured in the first half, and his kicking was off colour. Quarter time showed score 11—8 in favour of Medicine.

In another minute Medicine added one more point on a rouge. Play was ding-dong for several minutes. Time was getting fast, and the Arts supporters were losing hope fast, when Medicine lost the ball on a forward pass. Suddenly Arts pulled themselves together for the last effort. In a series of line plunges and end runs they brought the ball steadily down the field. Putting their last ounce to the test they shoved Amaron over for the points. Rutherford converted, making the score 14—12. Time was called a few seconds after resuming game.

So far the standing is as follows:—Arts won two, lost one; Science won one, lost two; Medicine won one, lost one. Medicine has two more to play, Arts and Science one each.

The Rooters will certainly be successful to-morrow if they observe the following:—

1. Meet at the Union at 1.30 p.m. sharp.
2. All wear red and white caps.
3. Success, then, to the Rooters of McGill!

club. Arrangements have been made for some eats and a large attendance is expected. Memos and prices have been received from various hotels for the Thanksgiving Dinner and these must be talked over and one decided upon.

Then, too, we must decide if the U.S. did right in electing Senator Harding, and try and figure out how Holy Cross beat Syracuse. There'll be lots to talk about and enough to eat, so keep the date open and come.

DISTANCE RUN COVERED BY HARRIERS FRI.

Good Time Made Over Six Mile Course.

INTER-FACULTY MEET.

Harrier Representatives Are Leaving For Toronto Soon.

The Harrier run yesterday afternoon covered the full course, and very good time was made by all who finished. The men that are still turning out are those who have entered the sport in earnest, and they are all displaying consistently good form. The track coach, Van Wagner, was in the dressing rooms ready to give helpful advice and suggestions to all present.

Norm Egg set the pace for the entire distance. He was never headed, although at times closely pressed by other runners, notably, McNider and Simpson. At the finish, Egg came in first, closely followed by McNider and Simpson. Immediately behind him was Creelman, who reached the grounds a few yards in advance of Copland. These five men, although not straining themselves at any time during the run, plainly showed that they will furnish stiff opposition to any aspiring to make the Harrier team.

The Intercollegiate Harrier Meet will take place in Toronto on November 13th, when McGill will have an opportunity to test her distance runners against those of Toronto, Queen's and R.M.C., all of whom may be depended upon to put up

MARITIME CLUB HOLDS SMOKER

Well Attended and Offered Excellent Amusements.

A very interesting meeting was held Thursday night in the Cafeteria, when the Maritime Club had their first smoker.

The meeting throughout was very entertaining, and showed careful planning on the part of its organizers.

Several members of the College Harmony Orchestra were present, who played popular selections and supplied a sufficient amount of jazz. There were, in addition to this, several singers, who pleased the audience with their vocal abilities. The speakers were really the most important factors of the smoker. Professor Chipman, who is a newcomer to the club, gave an exceedingly interesting address. He outlined the favorable condition of the Maritime Provinces, which he has recently visited, and showed their prospects for future success.

Among the other speakers were Mr. Lands, Dr. Sullivan, Dr. MacKay and Mr. Lawrence, who made excellent addresses.

"Teedles" Thompson, the well-known leader of the Rooters' Club, asked the "leather-lugged blue noses of the Maritime Provinces to be out in force, and help along the old team on Saturday."

As a whole, the smoker was well attended and proved to be an overwhelming success.

teams of fine calibre. The Inter-faculty Meet of McGill will, in all probability, be held on Monday, but the date has not, as yet been definitely decided. However, full particulars will appear in Monday's issue of the "Daily"—so all interested look for details on Monday.

SCORELESS TIE IN SOCCER GAME

Battled On Muddy Field At Early Hour.

Yesterday morning the Wesleyan and Congregational soccer teams met in their second game of the season. Both sides battled hard for the victory, but when the whistle blew neither team had scored a goal. The play was at times very fast, and at other times the ball remained almost stationary, while some of the would-be footballers took vicious kicks at the ball, but failed to connect with it forcibly. The field was muddy, and suffered from the rain of the night before, and the players found that their theological dignity was often rudely upset. The teams were very evenly matched. The Wesleyans displayed a better knowledge of footwork, while the Congregationals often broke away and rushed the ball the length of the field.

The inability of the forwards to shoot accurately for goal spoiled some good chances on both sides for a score.

Smith was a tower of strength for the Congregationals, and robbed the Wesleyan forwards of the ball many times. Sanders, the new man on the Congregational forward line, played a stellar game, and often kept his larger opponents guessing as to his whereabouts.

Edgcombe and Kelloway did some good work for the Wesleyan forward line, and Davis played a strong game.

In the first period the Congregationals rushed aggressively and very nearly scored when Bronson kicked clear under the upright.

In the second period Richards, the Congregational goal-keeper, was called upon to do more work, but managed to save in a very cool manner.

The game was rendered quite lively by a small but enthusiastic knot of Wesleyan rooters.

The next game will be between the Presbyterians and Congregationals. If the Congregationals are able to score a win over their opponents, they will be tied with them for premier honors, and this will necessitate a play-off. This game promises to be some battle, for when the Theologs meet on the field of sport, they forget that they are men of peace.

The line-up was as follows:
Wesleyans: Goal—Boyce. Full-backs—Britt, Moulard. Half-backs—Macfarlane, Davis, Middlemas. Forwards—Edgcombe, Kelloway, Roberts, Whaler, Wright.

Congregationals: Goal—Richards. Full-backs—Smith, Ayer. Half-backs—Eddy, Whitmore, Butler. Forwards—Sanders, G. Craik, Jackson, O. Craik, Bronson.

Mr. Raphael succeeded on the floor by Mr. E. C. Common, who dealt mainly with objections to the system. No very valid objection, he said, could properly be raised to the theory of the proposal, but questions of great gravity arose as to the practical consequences of Proportional Representation. The result of the adoption of this form of voting would be that the party system would be largely broken down, and that the people would be represented

GRIDIRON GRIST

(By "FIELD GOAL")

It is doubtful if ever in the history of McGill University has such interest been taken in a football match as that being shown in the game to be played at the Percival Molson Memorial Stadium this afternoon. McGill must win to-day to have a chance for the championship. "Varsity," by gaining a victory, will be champions for 1920. Every seat in the stand has been sold, and consequently a crowd of at least eight thousand is an assured thing. Automobiles will be lining the south side of the field. Standing room will be roped off for the overflow from the grand stand. Crowds are coming down from Toronto with the Blue and White, and graduates of McGill are arriving in the city in large numbers from Ottawa, Quebec and many other places.

The weather all this week has been very unsettled, and all that can be hoped for is that all the good weather is being saved up for Saturday (at the time of going to press we cannot prophesy on what the weather conditions will be). The teams will not be affected nearly as much as the spectators of Jupiter Pluvius happens to be on the job. The field is certain to be soft unless the weather suddenly turns very cold. Heavy going is not going to give any particular handicap to either team. Its one effect would be to slow up the game, and make it almost impossible to pull off the snappy trick plays for which Shaughnessy has become so noted.

There is often among the less well informed fans a confusion as to just exactly how much each score in football counts. This is especially the case as regards a rouge and safety touch, or rather not so much as to what these two scores count as to what is the difference between them. Below we are given a few citations from the Canadian Intercollegiate Rugby Football Union Rules of the Game for 1920.

Touch—"(15a) A Try (Touch) is scored when (1) the ball in possession of a player is declared dead by the referee, any part of it being in goal; (2) a player, having crossed the opponents' goal line in possession of the ball, goes into touch, or over the dead line, and retains possession of the ball.

V. "An earned Try (Touch) shall score 5 points; a Try (Touch) scored as a result of a fumble behind the line by the defending side shall score 3 points."

Convert—"(15b) When a side has obtained a try, one of its players shall bring the ball straight up to the goal line and thence out into the grounds, not more in front of the goal than where it was declared dead, and thence place it for one of his side to kick at goal."

"V. A goal (convert) kicked from a try shall score 1 point."

Goal—"(15c) When the ball is kicked (except by a punt, flying-kick or kick-off) from the grounds without touching the ground and goes over the cross-bar and between the posts (or the posts produced) of the opponents' goal, it shall be a goal. A goal from a drop or place kick counts 3 points; from a free kick, 2 points."

Safety-Touch—"(17) A Safety-Touch is scored when the ball has last touched a player of the side defending the goal in front of the goal-line prior to crossing the goal-line, and he or one of his own side rouses it. A Safety-Touch shall score 2 points."

Rouge—"(16) A Rouge is made (a) when a player getting possession of the ball in his own goal makes his mark, or the ball is declared dead in his possession when it is on or behind his own goal-line; (b) when the ball, or a player of either side having possession of it, is in touch-in-goal except as already provided for in 15a (2); (c) when the ball, or a player with it in his possession touches, or is on or across the dead-ball line except as already provided for in 15a (2); (d) when a forward pass is made in goal by the defending side."

These are a few of the main points with regard to the scoring, and what the different scores count.

Football history will be made to-day, and McGill supporters are all feeling confident that the Red and White fourteen is capable of gaining the victory. Every McGill student will be on hand to shout himself hoarse in encouragement of the team.

In Parliament by numerous small detached groups, making cabinet government impossible. Until the Proportional Representation faction could advance an acceptable constructive programme for the revision of parliamentary procedure, the writer considered the adoption of the scheme most inexpedient. Some discussion followed these remarks, and adjournment found those present possessed of a sound knowledge of the main issues of the problem of Proportional Representation.

UNION ELECTION IS KEEN CONTEST

Two Poll Clerks Necessary To Accommodate Crowd At Booth.

An unusual interest was evinced yesterday in the annual election of the Union House Committee. Three nominees appeared for election, L. P. Ereaux, B.Sc., J. G. Quackenbush and F. J. Buckley.

That the election would be keenly contested was apparent from the crowd of voters which thronged the booths all day. So great was the rush that the usual one poll clerk was unable to keep them going, and an assistant had to be procured.

Four hundred and fifty votes were cast in all, and the results were so close that a recount was necessitated. The final count showed a margin of barely one vote between the first and second contestants, and a scanty majority of twelve over the third.

L. P. Ereaux and J. G. Quackenbush were elected, polling 250 and 251 votes respectively, while F. J. Buckley totalled 235.

Although the enthusiasm displayed over this election far exceeded that shown on the same occasion last year, there is still much room for improvement. Every man in the College should have shown enough interest in the welfare of the Union to help put the right men in charge. Pityable indeed are affairs when only about twenty per cent. of the student body think it worth their while to interest themselves in such a vital link in our college life as is the Union. Awake then from the lethargy into which you have fallen, and let the interest and enthusiasm evinced yesterday be but a weak precursor of the wave of unanimous participation which will mark the next similar event. These elections may appear trifles to us all, but let us not forget that of such trifles is the perfect college spirit, of which we are hearing so much, composed.

We congratulate the successful contestants on the honor conferred upon them by their election, and wish them a successful regime.

In a game this season, and after defeating the Lennoxville team by such a big score last week, the McGill thirds do not anticipate any trouble in disposing of their rivals this morning, although the squad will be minus one or two of its regular players who went down to Kingston with the second team last night to play in the game against the Queens seconds this afternoon in the Intermediate Intercollegiate race.

NEXT WEEK AT THE THEATRES

PRINCESS.
Next week a programme of all feature acts will be presented at the Princess consisting of comedy, dancing and music contributed by four of vaudeville's headline attractions and seldom, if ever appearing on the same bill. Each of these acts are distinct attractions in themselves holding headline honors individually throughout the entire high class vaudeville circuit.

The return of Patricola, "The Scintillating Melodist" with the violin and voice, is welcomed. Patricola is a very attractive young woman with a stage presence almost as great as her musical ability and comes direct here after a lengthy engagement in New York City.

Julia Nash and C. H. O'Donnell are among the best known leads on the continent. They are artists of established skill and reputation, and their decision to join the vaudeville forces was a happy one. They will be seen here in "Almost Single," an elaborately staged one act comedy, which is reported to be a notable example of what high-class playlets can be successfully produced on the vaudeville stage.

Topical humorous sayings, character studies and original serio-comic satire is the medium which Billy Glason uses in laying down his barrage of clean, hearty and enjoyable entertainment. Glason is youthful looking, full of pep and bubbling over with versatility.

Berrens-Ryan Sisters and Leslie in a "Coterie of Dance and Music" prove themselves a quartette of entertainers of the highest calibre. Berrens gives a fine rendition of the music that has a general appeal. The Ryan Sisters are young, graceful and pretty, they are graceful dancers, pleasing singers and are chiefly gowned. Leslie is also a dancer and the combination is an exceedingly formidable one.

Belle Montrose, a very clever comedian will be seen in "Her Only Chance," which is a mélange of comedy, singing and dancing. Alice Sheldon and Lucille Dailey will be heard in "Fifty Songs at the Piano," both these young ladies being fair to look upon and their singing and piano playing is most pleasant to hear.

Ralph Lohse and Nana Sterling offer a gymnastic exhibition that is fast and furious, their feats being executed with a rapidity that is bewildering. Hazel Moran, in a Lariat and Roping novelty will complete an unusual and attractive bill.

ORPHEUM.

In "Outcast," which the Orpheum Players present next week, Elsie Ferguson found one of her greatest starring roles on the legitimate stage. After seeing the play one can appreciate this fact, for the play is one that provides opportunities for exceptional emotional acting. "Outcast," however, is by no means a one character play, but it is so crowded with dramatic moments and tense situations that it affords the entire cast an opportunity, and not one of the roles can really be called a minor one.

"Outcast" deals with a big vital subject in a vigorous, straightforward manner. It is a story of a girl of the London streets who chance sends to the door of a rich young man who, having been jilted by the woman he loves, is seeking forgetfulness in liquor and drugs. Seeing a sort of similarity in their cases, both having sunk to the slough of despondency, the girl offers a friendly hand, and eventually makes him forget the woman who had rejected his love.

"Outcast" is said to be one of the most powerful dramas of recent years. Its story is the work of Hubert Henry Davies, an English playwright, who has many successful plays to his credit. It abounds in the dramatic, and the Orpheum Players are expected to give a clever interpretation, as the play has a number of roles which the individual members of the company are especially fitted to portray.

LOEWS.
Marcus Loew himself, head of the great theatrical corporation which bears his name, will be a visitor to this city next Wednesday. He will head a party of ten motion picture stars who will appear in person at this theatre at 3.30 p.m. and at 7 p.m.

On the vaudeville end of the bill, Friend and Downing, the international comedians, hold the stellar position. In their unusual comedy skit, "My Friend Abe," they have been making an unprecedented hit wherever they have played. They are known from coast to coast for their hilarity-producing qualities.

The Military Revue, a tabloid production of song and dance, will present a quintette of very beautiful girls, who possess more than the ordinary individual talent; Sims and Warfield, in "Darktown Nonsense," will offer "Going to the Rehearsal"; Bertram-May and Co. have a hilarious little comedy entitled "The Dear Brute," featuring Cecilia Rosewood, and The Links will present unique novelties in gymnastic specialties.

Alice Lake will be starred in the feature Metro photoplay, "The Mistake Wife." The story is of a young western man who marries into an excessively wealthy and aristocratic Eastern family, and who, after many trying adventures, finally succeeds in making her new relatives realize that, after all, she is human. The picture is a film dramatization of Julie Herne's successful stage play, "The Outsider."

"Don't Weaken"—a Sennett comedy, and Loew's British-Canadian News Weekly will complete the billing.

GAYETY.

James E. Cooper's burlesque classic, Roseland Girls Company announced as the next attraction at the Gayety theatre, for an engagement of one week beginning with the matinee Monday afternoon. Lert Lahr, the well-known comedian, who has been provided with a most humorous theatrical vehicle, entitled, "Before, After and After That," a comedy in two acts and eight scenes, has even greater fun-makers than before, to say nothing of the beautiful chorus of 20 handsome girls.

The book which was written by William K. Wells, is full of witty lines and intensely funny situations worked into play by Bert Lahr and Harry Kay, who have the happy faculty of knowing how to produce laughs. The plot has to do with nothing in particular but to furnish good material for producing laughs. To say nothing of the superbly beautiful gowns and costumes and scenic furnishings would be doing the producer an injustice.

The company is headed by Bert Lahr and Harry Kay, comedian, singer and dancer; Adele Ferguson, the well-known prima donna; Ruth Denice, the vivacious soubrette; Kathryn Diekey, one of the shapeliest girls in burlesque, who formerly was a model for well-known artists; Madeline Lafay, and Smith, Lynch and Smith, harmony singers, Harry Clay and Emily Dyer. Not forgetting the large chorus which departs some handsome wardrobe and sing and dance like trojans. Their artistic dancing captures the eye and they all have sweet voices and blend well. Some very popular song hits have been written especially for this show and the melodies by Hal Dyson are said to be the best he has turned out.

Though slightly weakened through injuries to two of its regular players, the Toronto squad will be a tough proposition to beat, and the large following of Rooters that accompanied the team to this city are likewise looking for a victory—but for their own pets.

Laddie Cassels, coach of the Blue and White, and his husky band of pigskin chasers, arrived in Montreal yesterday evening and spent last night at their headquarters at the Queen's Hotel, resting up for their battle to-day. With the exception of Westman and Hobbs, the team is in perfect condition and ready to go from the first whistle this afternoon. Both Hobbs and Westman are listed as spares, owing to minor injuries, and while the big middle wing may remain out of the game altogether, owing to his bad shoulder, it is not thought likely that Cassels will keep Hobbs long on the bench.

Accompanying the team was a large party of Rooters, who have come down to boost for the Blue and White, and this morning a special train from the Queen City will bring another contingent to bolster up the ranks of those already here. Among the enthusiasts to arrive to-day will be a party of the famous 'Varsity Ladies' Rooters' Club, who are being chaperoned on the trip.

While 'Varsity Rooters will be at considerable strength, the McGill club will be ably backed up by the large number of grads, who are flocking into the city, many of them from distant parts, and all of them called back by the one desire and old call, to help the squad 'stick with the ship.' Last night the hotels downtown were the scenes of many happy re-unions, as little bands of old class-mates gathered around and talked over the prospects for to-day's tussle, while not forgetting to recall the good old days when the Old McGill spirit on similar occasions had brought victory to the Red and White.

Dr. Lorne C. Montgomery and L. Macaulay, who handled the McGill-Queen's game last Saturday, will officiate.

The teams will take the field to-day as follows, according to the announcement by officials of the two clubs:
